EXPERIENCE

Active Watch Security, Pogradec — DEVELOPER

October 2022 - Present

I developed desktop applications that streamlined processes and improved automation tasks, resulting in significant time and cost savings for the organization. These robust apps, created using [Python 'tkinter' library + MySQL], were tailored to meet the specific needs of different departments.

Additionally, I designed and implemented a MySQL database from scratch, optimizing its structure, relationships, and performance. This scalable solution improved data accessibility and accuracy, effectively managing critical information for the organization.

About my actual job:

Being labeled as the 'Merlin with a magic wand' in an environment where no one had any prior knowledge of programming or development has truly transformed me into a programming 'wizard'. It's been an enlightening experience to single-handedly navigate through the complexities of coding while others gaze in awe, expecting miracles at every keystroke. Through this comical journey, I've honed my skills as a developer, mastering the art of translating technical jargon into understandable language. The challenges I faced in this non-technical realm have only fueled my growth, making me adaptable, resourceful, and surprisingly patient. So, yes, I may not possess an actual magic wand, but my programming prowess is truly magical

Python Developer, Freelancer

2017 - Present

As a self-taught Python enthusiast (until April 2021 when I started a proper Python course from scratch), I embarked on my freelance journey 6 (six) years ago. Since then, I've honed my skills in Python development, delivering top-notch solutions for various projects. My expertise lies in crafting robust and efficient code, and I take pride in exceeding client expectations with each endeavor.
